

Free Game of the week prediction

Every week, Epic Games gives out a free game and after collecting for about a year, I wanted to see if I could predict what kind of game they would give out using data.

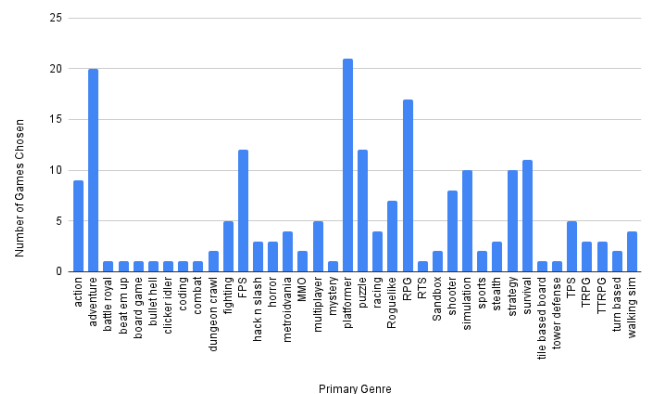

YEAR OF RELEASE?

Number of Games Chosen By Release Year

GENRE?

Number Per Genre

GAME ENGINE?

Game Engine	COUNTA of Game Engine
Unity	84
Unreal	30
custom	22

Based on the data, it seems Epic leans towards indie, platformer/adventure games that came out around 2018 made in Unity. If I had to guess, they give away lots of platformers or adventure games because they are genres that anyone can pick up and enjoy. They probably choose slightly older games because licensing may be easier. There are probably more indie games than AAA titles because indie devs might be easier to work with.
